KEY INGREDIENTS

Murumuru Butter is a rich Amazonian butter to promote glossy hair. High in Vitamin A, it improves hair flexibility and also helps to improve the hair's elasticity.

Murumuru Butter

Maintains and restores hair's natural elasticity. Brings shine and luster to hair.

Shea Butter

Rich in Beta Carotene and (EFA) Essential Fatty Acids, Vitamins A and E. When these vitamins are placed on the surface of the hair they quickly absorb into the cortex promoting shine and volume.

Mango Seed Butter

Lavender Flower is a moisturising, cleansing and balancing anti oxidant.

Lavender Flower

Provides quality hydration while soothing the hair and scalp. Jojoba oil's consistency is similar to sebum; the oil is naturally produced by the body and healthy hair follicles.

Jojoba Seed Oil

Keratin Protein molecules have been broken down and are small enough to go beyond the cuticle and penetrate the hair shaft through this process. It will strengthen all 3 layers of the hair. The Amino Acids Re-structure the hair that has been damaged or broken down by chemicals. It further helps to replace the amino acid cysteine which is the main amino acid lost during chemical processing. That is why the term "deep conditioning" technically only refers to this kind of treatment by using penetrating proteins.

Keratin amino Acids

Avoids the stripping of colour from the hair. Sunflower Seed Oil is a natural sunscreen that guards against color fade and brassiness.
